Review climate survey data

The council reviewed the climate survey data.

The council would like to talk to colleges that are in the top and bottom tier of responses.

The council will talk to deans of the colleges with high scores to determine what information might be worth sharing with other colleges in order to improve the climate. The council will write a brief report for each college to outline the council's findings. The report will be sent to the provost, the deans and faculty.

Proposed recommendation related to childcare- Kyle Cavanaugh will draft the recommendations as a resolution, which will be presented at the next council meeting and then the Senate Steering committee.

Faculty Club night- the faculty club is on hold until the Senate can work with the museum and student government to plan an event.

The council discussed recognition for service to the university. The council will create criteria to award faculty who have participated in university governance at a college level. The council discussed having faculty councils and dean select recipients from nominations.

The meeting adjourned at 4:55 PM
